Concept Note

The inter-linkage between the concept of human security and the challenges of implementation of its goals has acquired a new meaning and wider significance in the last couple of years due to some unavoidable global phenomena. The post-pandemic global economic slowdown is faced with other challenges from war-torn areas like Ukraine, Gaza, Myanmar & failed states like Pakistan & Afghanistan. The direct fallout has been the growing challenges of providing & maintaining of health, food & economic security for the population-cutting across borders as well as barriers of class, caste, colour, gender, religion & ethnicity. From a perspective of governance, it requires efforts, money, planning, collection & analyses of data from the ground level, a clear understanding of economic & social vulnerabilities of communities, region- specific requirements & a concerted effort by all the stakeholders - public & private- to hold up a joint architecture to meet the challenges of human security of a broad nature & on a wide scale.

In the 4th Annual IIHSG International Conference on "Human Security & Global Governance" will try to find the seriousness of challenges, the nature of responses available & the model of governance required to thwart these challenges from a human security context.
India is doing really great in managing human security, especially environmental security. So special session will be dedicated on India's visionary ideas and path-breaking activities & achievements.
